Eldoret Kenya

Education turns a mirror of impossibility into a window of possibilities.

"Our Partnership"

Bishop Julius Atsango receives Rev. Joseph Kiirya visiting on behalf of Canadian friends and donors.

Some parents bring farm produce in exchange for tuition for their kids.

Your donations have made it possible for orphans like Raphael to be in school and receive free school supplies to help him with his studies.

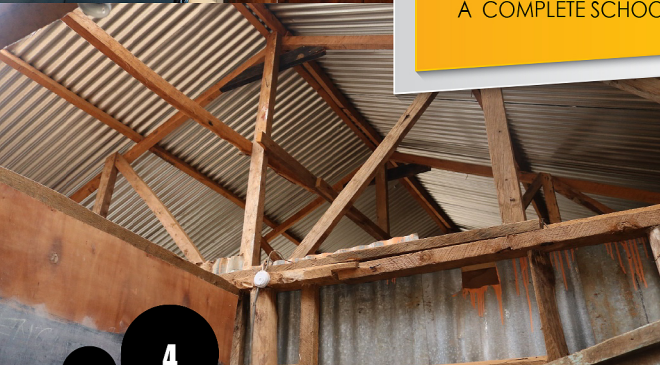

This is the school uniform, a full set would cost $50.00 - $100.00 depends on the student's age and grade. Student are required to dress the same to eliminate the disparities. Your donation will help low income students receive a pair of uniform that makes them look just as good as all others and increase their sense of self esteem.

Rev. Joseph checking out the structural integrity and electrical installations of one of the classrooms, I wish I could have some Canadian structural and electrical volunteers go help secure some of these installations, but for now, the kids got a roof over their head, Praise God.

The School Principal Mrs. Mabel Atsango
Her car is the official "school bus" and she is the "bus driver"
Her selflessness has enabled kids from far distances come to school daily.

These are the dormitories, the boys and girls have two separate rooms where they reside.

Canada has a different history with residential schools, but in Kenya, access to accommodation at school is a privilege and blessing, especially for low income families who got nothing at home. The school provides nutritious meals and supervised homework time.

Grade Three classroom.

This class reminded me of my own journey 40 years ago, I was exactly like one of these little angels, I was in a school about 1 hour away from this same school.

My most treasured time at this school was with these Junior Kinders

These kids could use better teaching visual aids

Teaching kids to read and write in both English and Swahili

Clean water tank

Bishop Julius & Mabel Atsango do their best to give these kids the best.

Need for a Water Pump

They need a water pump to pump water from the well to the tank.

Cost: $5,000.00 incl.
installation.

Water Well drilled by the community to supply
water to the tank

Currently water is drawn out manually. This is cumbersome and the hole is a safety hazard to kids.

... and praying a blessing over these wonderful children...

The students of Cornerstone Preparatory School waving to you in gratitude for your donations. I promised them to send more Canadians to come to visit and encourage them.

Rev. Joseph Kiirya receives Ottawa's City Builders Award from Mayor Jim Watson & Councillor Keith Egli for his compassion and relentless commitment to our City.

Please Consider partnering with Cornerstone Preparatory School and support these kids.
